

Technical Lead -Python

Experience : 7-10 Years

Qualifications: Only B.tech/B.E.

Location : Gurugram

Primary Skills Required :

- Experience in Web Application Development using Python and Django or similar framework
- Full-stack software product development background using any technologies like Java, Spring, NodeJS or other Web Technologies
- Experience in developing highly scalable cloud applications
- Experience in Dev-ops, CI/CD platforms, GIT, JIRA
- Strong understanding of software quality aspects, process driven approach, practicing Agile methodology
- Strong knowledge and proficiency of Python language in data analytics and machine learning domain
- Experience of working on Machine learning projects using Python / Spark
- Understanding and application of BIG data technologies like Hadoop
- Experience of working with MySQL, MongoDB and Elasticsearch database
- Strong in software design patterns, data structure design, algorithms, service oriented architecture, micro-service frameworks. Large scale system design knowledge implementing scalability, reliability and security aspects
- 2+ years of experience leading data science, artificial intelligence, machine learning teams as lead, handled 4 to 6 member team

Roles and Responsibilities :

- Lead and manage all aspects of product development lifecycle in machine Learning and big data domain as per product specification within an agile environment. Own all phases of development lifecycle from gathering business requirements, design and modeling, development, deployment, and support
- Work with product managers to create and translate product visions, business cases, and user experiences into technical requirements, scope development effort, and assign resources to execute against the prioritized product roadmaps and change requests
- Implement and adhere to best engineering practices like design, unit testing, functional testing automation, continues integration and delivery. Responsible for the overall quality of the code, delivery time line, scalability and reliability aspects of the product
- Participating in product R&D, defining product vision in ML domain
- Responsible for hiring, managing, mentoring, and growing teams of software engineers